ENERGY EFFICIENCY the challenge ahead...

FRONT COVER IMAGES:
BedZED: a mixed development urban village developed on a brownfield wasteland site in Hackbridge, Sutton by Bill Dunster Architects for The Peabody Trust.

The development will provide 82 dwellings in a mixture of flats, maisonettes and town houses, and approximately 2,500 m² of workspace/office and community accommodation including a health centre, nursery, organic café/shop and sports club.

Winner of the Sustainability Award & Most Promising Scheme at the Housing Design Awards 2000, the development combines sustainable development with low impact lifestyles and increased quality of life.

With special thanks to Bill Dunster.
